

SENIOR ISSUE 2017

Dear Class of 2017,

There was once a time when 2017 was nothing more than just an odd prime number, a year so far in the future that nobody paid much mind to it, until we were finally there and actually realized that we were at the end of a major period of our lives. So, what do you have to look back on? Whether it is academic, athletic, or artistic, we all have left some part of ourselves in this school that will never be replicated, and as a class we left an impression much like a classic movie—unique, memorable, and impossible to be topped (sorry, underclassmen). The path is not ending for any of us, but as we approach the fork (considering what our college directory contains, it's a lot of forks), it's fitting to consider what kind of person your path has made you become. So as you begrudgingly turn in your last assignments, play in or cheer for your final sports games, finish your final creative works, and see people and places for what may be the last time, we invite you to sit back and take a look at the four years of memories we've made, contained within the next 11 pages. Enjoy and don't rush; happy reading.

*Sincerely,
The Senior Prowler Staffers*

Note: The information in the Senior Directory is based on self-reported data by the seniors of Quince Orchard High School. Some seniors may not be included, since the issue was sent in for publication before May 1st, the deadline for committing to many colleges.

SENIOR WILLS:

I, Alec Abraham, am taking everything.

I, Izzy Abraham, leave Lyla Kim and Nicole Zand a lot of meatballs. Nicole, I hope you're never hungry during practice again but my expectations are low. I leave Danielle Tulchinsky a lot of extra room in her backseat and her aux cord. I leave Mallory Rosenfeld a clean, stainless steel bowl. I leave Erin Lanham complete jurisdiction over the literary magazine. (As long as there is a tribute to me in it next year. Also, don't let Serena pull any stunts.) The rest of you, I just leave.

I, Andrew Adjani-Aldrin, leave the following advice: don't lead a line in track unless you're a senior.

I, Blake Adkins, leave my dozens of cut pounds to José Echeona: I expect you to hold a state title next year, dude. Of course, to my sister Camryn I offer you my room and high expectation.

I, Chase Alexander, say peace out to the homies: it's been real.

I, Emma Allnutt, leave my lack of motivation and unused film paper to Devin Streight, my broken field hockey stick and memories of running until our lungs gave out to Tobi Baisburd and Hannah Hallam, and my scheme boy ways to Kayla Smullen -- I'll bail you out of jail when 12 catches you.

I, Yasmine Argubie, demand that all my little Argubie minions have fun in high school cuz you're only young once.
