

SENIOR ISSUE

2014

Dear Senior Class of 2014,

It seems like just yesterday we walked through those front doors in August of 2010. We wish you all the best of luck as you each head out into the world to find your own special place. But we also hope you will never forget what a special place this is, how many life-long friendships and unforgettable memories were fostered here, or the road back home. There is no doubt in our minds that each and every one of you will somehow bring a piece of Quince Orchard with you to whatever you choose to do next. Best of luck, Cougars!

*Sincerely,
Senior Prowler Staffers*

I leave my boat to Justin Tritinger, oatmeal to Jacob Latour, and work ethic to Sean Manners, and wish that Ethan Adler proceed to bother Henry Peck.

I, Taylor Alexander, leave the SGA to my girl Alexis, and my hair ribbons to the FH team. I leave Alexa and Cip Cougar TV and the doughnuts and poparts, and silent morning car rides to Chase Faith, continue the Alexander-Brake legacy. (Nothing for Marvin, obviously.)

I, Amen Amatu, leave the younger class with nothing but just to stay positive no matter what.

I, Annette Anderson, leave our lunch spot on the end of the senior hallway near the media center to Kat Reyer. I hope you sit there with your friends and make new, amazing memories. But I also hope sometimes you'll look back on our silly moments there and smile. I love you bunches, give 'em hell for us next year, Kitty Kat!

I, Elizabeth Ashford, leave my mom and dad all of my college debt. I leave my sister, Erin, nothing except for the advice to stay out of my bedroom. To my nieces, Laila and Leia, I leave my fabulous collection of Uggs. Lastly, to AP Micro and Macro Economics students, I leave my prayers.

I, Jacqueline Bennett, leave all my love, joy, and well wishes to Kat Reyes.

I, Adam Berner, leave my little brother will all of my autographed hockey gear. Dawson, I'm still better than you at Fifa. To Mom and Dad: You still owe me $50 from the time you were too lazy to go to the bank and borrowed my money.

I, Lauren Blitz, leave all my life advice to Alyssa Winderlich. May it serve you well. I leave all my energy and inspirational quotes to my Pommies, my Barbie sing-a-long partner Alex, my sis Danielle, and Steph I'll miss your priceless reactions to my life stories. I, Austin Bougerie, leave my long held spot in the jazz band to Matt Roomberg. The white uniform and podium I leave to whoever steps up to claim my sport as Drum Major. Lastly, I leave the pit horses to Lulu, though only in memory now. May his legend outlive his shaft.

I, Benjamin Brown, leave Griffin Miller my weight lifting records so he can continue comparing himself to me, Jason Heyn the linebacker break, and a redeemable coupon for unlimited slaps to the face. Colton and Kendall, I leave you a basketball signed by me, and Stephi Shin I leave you my phone number. I, Becca Carver, leave Shayne Carver Hercules, the car that will never die, no matter how many Mormons you pile in it from seminary to school. And I leave Joseph Cooke permission to buy as many cinnamon pretzels from the Amish Market as he desires... even if he has tennis that day.

Advice from Veteran Cougars

Senior Prowler staffers Andrew Fink and Matt Quinn share what they have learned during their four years at QO

Do

- Become friendly, but not too friendly, with your teachers.
- Get involved in something you love.
- Participate in the Red Army. It's something you'll never forget.
- Get a 5.0. This may help you get into college.
- Engage with classmates of the opposite sex
- Listen to your heart when it's calling for you
- You... or us

Don't

- Take calculus with Jernigan.
- Be a freshman.
- Mess with the Shellhorse, you'll get the hooves
- Take selfie snapchats in class.
- Spend all your time studying.
- Procrastinate on Prowler articles
- Drop that
